There are many animals that call the Chesapeake Bay home. Some of them are only there for part of each year. Find out about these animals by putting these letter tiles together.

C H E S A P E A K E S C R A M B L E

Kuma has some helpful hints.

If there is a space between the first and last letter like this it means that the first letter (A) is the last letter in a word and the last letter (F) is the first letter in another word.

Take a look at these letter tiles:

Watch for spaces – they are clues!

Do you see the clues? The tile with only E on it could be the last one because there are no letters that come after it. The tile with E D on it is the end of a word because there is a space after the D.

Write the sentence on the line.

Now on to those Chesapeake Bay inhabitants... Write each sentence on the line.
